ANTONIO “Tony” MARGARITO (38-6, 1 NC, 27 KOs)...

- World championship fights: 10-3, 1 NC, 8 KOs...
- Former WBA welterweight world champion...
- Former IBF welterweight world champion...
- Former WBO welterweight world champion, seven successful defenses...
- Former jr. middleweight world title challenger...

At the age of 32, Antonio, also known as “The Tijuana Tornado,” is a 16-year pro – he made his debut at 15. He has been fighting at the top levels of competition in recent years - seven of his last 11 opponents have been world champions - and given some sensational performances.

A veteran of 14 world championship fights, Antonio is a former three-time welterweight world champion - he won the WBO title in March, 2002, and made seven successful title defenses. He won the IBF title in April, 2008, then vacated the title and won the WBA title in July, 2008.

He is coming off a 10 round unanimous decision win against Roberto Garcia in his last fight on May 8.

After the fight, Dan Rafael wrote on ESPN.com [excerpts]: After a stretch of 16 months out of the ring, Margarito made his comeback in front of more than 17,000 supportive fans at a bullring in Mexico, where he was hailed as a returning hero. With new trainer Robert Garcia (no relation to the opponent) in his corner, Margarito rolled to a lopsided decision.

Margarito dropped Roberto Garcia, of Weslaco, Texas, in the first round with a nice three-punch combination punctuated by a hard right hand and was in control all the way. Garcia battled back as best as possible, but Margarito was simply too good and talented for him. The bout was never in doubt, especially after Garcia was docked points by [the] referee for head butting in the eighth round and for a low blow in the 10th round. [End Rafael item]

Antonio won the WBA title on July 26, 2008, with an eleventh-round TKO against previously undefeated defending champion Miguel Cotto. It was an epic battle - HBO ringside commentator Max Kellerman called it a “modern boxing classic.”

After the fight, Fightwriter.com’s Graham Houston reported [excerpts]: Being the superior boxer is a fine thing, and Miguel Cotto was the more artistic of the two fighters in the ring...and he might even have been the harder puncher, but Antonio Margarito had the durability, size, strength and iron will that can make skill irrelevant.

Pressing forward inexorably, seemingly impervious to punishment, Mexico’s Margarito put pressure on Puerto Rico’s Cotto the like of which has not been seen in a boxing ring in a long time. It was incredible, unyielding, almost superhuman pressure, and it proved far too much for Cotto....

Cotto did well early and he was winning the boxing match, but Margarito was winning the fight.

Previously, in every fight in his unbeaten career, Cotto had risen to the challenge and found a way to win. This time he couldn’t do it.

The punches that had hurt, dropped and stopped other fighters had no effect on Margarito: he walked through everything. Sometimes Cotto was hitting him flush and snapping his head back, and still Margarito came on.

Unfortunately for Cotto, he was meeting a fighter who wasn't just bigger but who was almost frighteningly relentless.

As the fight entered its second half, Margarito must have seemed, to Cotto, to be taking on the aspect of a vision from hell.

After five rounds Cotto seemed to be in charge of the fight but he hadn't made an impression on Margarito. For all of Cotto's slick moves and his crisp, clean hitting, there was Margarito right in front of him and coming on, and on, and on, willing to take punches to land his own.

It was a great fight to be sure...but I thought that the fight turned dramatically late in the sixth when a series of left uppercuts hurt Cotto as he was backed up on the ropes. One judge gave Cotto the round, but I sensed the beginning of the end.

Cotto...was brave and he fought well, but Margarito turned out to be his worst nightmare.

The fight was certainly memorable, and one of the great Mexico versus Puerto Rican showdowns. It reminded me a little of Julio Cesar Chavez grinding down and overpowering Edwin Rosario, which was also an 11th-round finish: Margarito-Cotto was a much closer fight in terms of the scorecards but, after six rounds, it had the same air of finality about it.

Margarito...never at any stage looked more than slightly shaken - and Cotto hit him with some excellent, precise punches. This was a night when Margarito was not going to allow himself to lose. [End Houston item]

Antonio has fought world champions Shane Mosley (TKOby9), Miguel Cotto (TKO11), Kermit Cintron two times (KO6, TKO5), Paul Williams (L12), Joshua Clottey (W12), Daniel Santos two times (TL10, NC1), Andrew "Six Heads" Lewis (KO2), Frankie Randall (TKO4), and Sergio Martinez (TKO7).

Antonio was the underdog in many fights early in his career, and had a few setbacks in his first two years as a pro - he was 9-3 in his first 12 fights.

I was just getting caught over and over."...

2008 – WON WBA W WORLD TITLE - on 7-26-08 in Las Vegas, NV, he TKO'd previously undefeated defending champion Miguel Cotto (32-0): the fight headlined at the MGM Grand, and it was an epic battle; Cotto was the clear favorite to win; he kept Antonio off-balance with movement in the early rounds, was the sharper, more accurate puncher, and built a lead on the scorecards – after five rounds, he led by scores of 49-46, 49-46, 48-47; but Antonio relentlessly pressed forward, repeatedly drove him back into the ropes, and steadily wore him down; Cotto's nose was bloodied in the 3rd round, his pace slowed in the 6th, and Antonio rallied strongly in the 7th round and rocked Cotto with a right uppercut that had him dazed; Antonio dominated the rest of the fight - Cotto showed tremendous heart and determination and was still effective when he boxed and moved, but Antonio repeatedly drove him back into the ropes and scored with a heavy two-handed attack; Antonio won the 6th round on two scorecards, swept the 7th on all three, won the 8th on two, then swept the 9th and 10th; Cotto's mouth was also bloodied; Antonio scored two knockdowns in the 11th round – the first with a left uppercut followed by a series of punches that forced Cotto to one knee – Cotto was also cut over his left eye and face was covered in blood when he got up; Antonio pressed forward again and Cotto again went to one knee after no clean punches were landed; Cotto's corner threw in the towel, and the referee stopped the fight at 2:05; after 10 rounds, the fight was scored 96-94, 96-94 Margarito, 95-95; after the fight, Antonio said, "I trusted my preparation. Obviously, Cotto is a very strong fighter. Slowly, the tornado rumbled. I told my corner I would wear him down and then knock him out. He never hurt me. That was the game plan, to come out early, be strong and wear him down. I hit him with body shots, I hit him in the head and then I knocked him out. In the sixth round, I could feel him getting weaker and I was getting stronger, and I knew it was my time."...

WON IBF W WORLD TITLE - on 4-12-08 in Atlantic City, NJ, he knocked out defending champion Kermit Cintron (29-1): this rematch was co-featured with the Miguel Cotto-Alfonso Gomez main event at Boardwalk Hall, and it was an exciting fight; Cintron won the 1st round on two scorecards, but Antonio pressured him relentlessly after that and shut him out on the scorecards; Cintron had his moments and landed several clean, hard right hands and uppercuts, but Antonio came back strongly every time and rocked Cintron repeatedly; Antonio was cut over his left eye in the 3rd round, and Cintron was cut over his right eye in the 5th; Antonio scored a knockdown with a left hook to the body in the 6th round, and Cintron was counted out on his hands and knees - face down on the canvas - at 1:57; after five rounds, Antonio led by scores of 50-45, 49-46, 49-46; after the fight, Antonio said, "I had Cintron from the beginning - I'm surprised he lasted that long. I learned from the Paul Williams fight that I had to put on pressure early in the fight. The whole training camp was about putting on pressure, pressure, pressure on all of my sparring partners. That's what I did tonight."...

2007 – WON VACANT WBO INTERCONTINENTAL W TITLE - on 11-10-07 in New York, NY, he TKO'd former NABF lightweight and welterweight champion Golden Johnson (25-7-3): the fight was on the undercard of the Miguel Cotto-Shane Mosley main event at Madison Square Garden, and Antonio quickly overpowered Johnson: he scored three knockdowns in the 1st round – the first with two left uppercuts that put Johnson flat on his back, the second with a series of punches that dropped Johnson to one knee, the third with three left hooks to the body and head that put Johnson on his hands and knees – and the referee stopped the fight without a count at 2:38; after the fight, Antonio said, "I told everyone that I was going to have a fast start. I was going to do that for 12 rounds. I showed tonight that I belong at the top of this division."...

2006 – 7TH WBO W WORLD TITLE DEFENSE - on 12-2-06 in Atlantic City, NJ, he won a 12 round unanimous decision against Joshua Clottey (30-1): the bout was co-featured with the Miguel Cotto-Carlos Quintana fight at Boardwalk Hall, and drew a crowd of 7,412; it was a hard-fought battle; Clottey started fast - he swept the 2nd and 3rd rounds on all three scorecards and won the 4th on two; but Antonio rallied in the 5th and stepped up his pace in the second half of the fight – he swept rounds five through 11 on all three scorecards – an won by scores of 118-109, 118-109, 116-112; after the fight, Antonio said, “10 months off really didn’t help me. I couldn’t get my rhythm early in the fight, but I definitely warmed up starting in the fifth round.”...

6TH WBO W WORLD TITLE DEFENSE - on 2-18-06 in Las Vegas, NV, he TKO’d Manuel Gomez (28-10-2): the fight headlined at the Aladdin and drew an announced crowd of 5,309; Antonio was very impressive - he scored a knockdown with a series of punches in the 1st round, and the referee stopped the fight in mid-count at 1:14; after the fight, Antonio said, “I am very happy about my victory tonight. I have been telling everyone for a very long time that I am the best, and I think tonight I proved it.”...

2005 - 5TH WBO W WORLD TITLE DEFENSE - on 4-23-05 in Las Vegas, NV, he TKO’d previously undefeated Kernit Cintron (24-0): it was a highly-anticipated event, but Antonio dominated the fight; he cut Cintron over the right eye with an uppercut in the 3rd round, then scored two knockdowns in the 4th; Antonio scored two more knockdowns in the 5th round, Cintron’s cornerman threw in the towel, and the referee stopped the fight at 2:21...

4TH WBO W WORLD TITLE DEFENSE - on 2-18-05 in Atlantic City, NJ, he TKO’d Sebastian Lujan (22-1-1): Lujan started fast and outworked Antonio in the first two rounds, but Antonio dominated the rest of the fight; he rocked Lujan in the 4th, and appeared to get stronger as the rounds progressed; Lujan sustained a tear at the top of his left ear in the 9th round, and the referee stopped the fight on the injury at 2:57 of the 10th; after the fight, Antonio said, “He was awkward, and I was worried about headbutts, so I had to box him. As soon as I started to the body, I thought he lost his power. It was good to get the rounds in.”...

2004 - WBO JM WORLD TITLE CHALLENGE - on 9-11-04 in San Juan, PR, he lost a technical decision against lefthanded defending champion Daniel Santos (28-2-1): Antonio moved up to the 154-pound division, and it was a good, close fight; Antonio pressed forward, but Santos started fast, staggered him in the 1st round, and outworked him in the 2nd and 3rd; Antonio punched effectively to the body, but was staggered again in the 5th; Antonio rallied in the middle rounds, but was cut badly over his right eye in the 6th by a clash of heads - he fought hard for the remainder of the fight, but the doctor stopped the fight on the cut in the early seconds of the 10th round and went to the scorecards; it looked like the decision could go either way and many ringsiders thought Antonio deserved to win, but the judges scored 86-85, 87-84 Santos, 86-85 Margarito...

3RD WBO W WORLD TITLE DEFENSE - on 1-31-04 in Phoenix, AZ, he TKO’d previously undefeated Hercules Kyvelos (22-0): Antonio headlined the fight card, which drew a crowd of 4,200 to the Dodge Theater, and gave an overwhelming performance; he buckled Kyvelos’ knees with a left uppercut midway through the 1st round, and trapped him on the ropes later in the round with a sustained, unanswered series of punches; Kyvelos landed his best punch of the fight early in the 2nd round, a straight right hand to the chin, but Antonio just smiled, nodded his head in recognition, and knocked down Kyvelos, flat on his side, with a left uppercut; Kyvelos got up, but was very unsteady and staggered backwards into the ropes without a punch being thrown; Antonio attacked and the referee stopped the fight at 0:54; after the fight, Antonio said, “I was just so much stronger than him. I knew after the first round it would be a short fight. I hit him with some hard shots and knew he was weakening. He may have been undefeated, but I knew he wasn’t in my class.”...

2003 – on 10-17-03 in Phoenix he knocked out Maurice Brantley (23-6): it was a nontitle 10 rounder; Antonio scored one knockdown in the 1st round and another in the 2nd with a left hook to the body; Brantley was counted out at 2:47...

2ND WBO W WORLD TITLE DEFENSE - on 2-8-03 in Las Vegas he TKO’d former WBA welterweight world champion Andrew “Six Heads” Lewis (22-1-1): Lewis started fast and outworked Antonio in the 1st round, but Antonio just smiled at him through the punches; Antonio staggered Lewis with a right hand in the 2nd round, followed with series of punches that left Lewis sagging into the ropes and defenseless, and the referee stopped the fight at 2:31; after the fight, Antonio said, "I saw the look on his face when he hit me with a left hand and I didn't do anything. I knew I had him. He hit me with his best shots in the first round and I didn't feel them. I threw my right uppercut and I saw his body shake, then I went with a big right hand and that's when I knew I hurt him."...

2002 – 1ST WBO W WORLD TITLE DEFENSE – on 10-12-02 in Anaheim, CA, he won a 12 round unanimous decision against Danny Perez (27-2): Antonio dominated the fight; he rocked Perez in the 2nd, 3rd, and 5th rounds, constantly pressured him, and wore him down; scored 120-108, 120-108, 118-110; after the fight, Antonio said, "That's what I wanted to do, leave no doubt. We protected for his right. That's all he had, a right hand and a decent left hook. I'm not saying he didn't train. I'm saying he didn't think I would have gotten better in the last three years."...

WON VACANT WBO W WORLD TITLE - on 3-16-02 in Las Vegas he TKO'd Antonio Diaz (37-3): Antonio gave an impressive performance in an exciting fight; the scores were even after six rounds – 58-56 Margarito, 58-56 Diaz, 57-57; but Antonio kept a relentless pace, swept rounds 7, 8, and 9 on two scorecards, and gradually wore down Diaz; Antonio scored a knockdown in the 10th round with a series of uppercuts; Diaz got up, but Antonio rocked him several more times, and Diaz' corner threw in the towel to stop the fight at 2:17; after nine rounds, Antonio led by scores of 87-84, 87-84, 86-85; after the fight, he said, "I dreamed of being a champion. I wasn't going to lose it. I stepped up and did it. I felt it was my best fight. I waited a long time for this belt. That is why I looked so good. Little by little, I began to break him down. By the sixth round, I got my second wind. My biggest concern was his experience, which I didn't have."...

2001 – WBO W WORLD TITLE CHALLENGE - on 7-21-01 in Bayamon, PR, he challenged lefthanded defending champion Daniel Santos (24-2-1): the fight had a premature ending - the fighters accidentally clashed heads in the 1st round and Antonio was cut badly on the right eyebrow; the referee stopped the fight due to the cut at 2:11, and it was ruled No Contest; looking back, Antonio said, "I was a little disappointed but it really wasn't a fight, and I can't say I fought him. I can't say anything about that fight, because it was like it never happened. Maybe down the road he and I will fight, maybe at 154."...

On 3-30-01 in Ft. Worth, TX, he knocked out Robert West (18-7-4): Antonio scored two knockdowns in the 1st round, and West was counted out at 2:19...

2000 – on 12-10-00 in Memphis, TN, he TKO'd former three-time world champion Frankie Randall (55-7-1): Antonio dominated the fight; he hurt Randall badly late in the 3rd, staggered him late in the 4th, and Randall did not answer the bell for the 5th round...

On 2-19-00 in Las Vegas, NV, he TKO'd previously undefeated lefthanded Argentinian prospect Sergio Martinez (16-0-1): the bout was on the undercard of the first Erik Morales-Marco Antonio Barrera fight at the Mandalay Bay; Martinez was favored to win, but Antonio dominated most of the fight - he scored a knockdown with a right hand late in the 1st round, constantly pressed forward, and bloodied Martinez' nose in the 3rd; Antonio staggered Martinez with a series of punches in the 7th round, and the referee stopped the fight at 2:57; after six rounds, Antonio led by scores of 59-54, 59-55, 59-56...

1999 - on 10-23-99 in Ft. Worth, TX, he TKO'd Midwest veteran Buck Smith (178-12-1): Antonio stopped him with a body punch in the 6th round; Antonio's brother had been killed by a gang the day before; looking back, Antonio said, "I took his death very hard and it affected me a lot. A lot of people closest to me did not want me to go through with the fight. I was not into the fight, but I went through with it. The hardest part was that my brother was always with me. He never left my side, but that night he did. I was not there with him. It was very hard. I think the only reason I fought that night is because I knew my brother would have wanted me to. I did it for him.”...

On 6-12-99 in Indio, CA, he won an 8 round split decision against local prospect Danny Perez (16-1): it was an exciting fight; Antonio was knocked down in the 1st round, but came back strongly to win by scores of 77-74, 76-75 Margarito, 76-75 Perez; Perez went on to win the NABF title...

1996 - on 10-14-96 in Anaheim, CA, he knocked out heavily-favored Ghanian prospect Alfred Ankamah (16-1): Antonio staggered Ankamah in the 2nd round and he barely survived; but Ankamah recovered and was coming on strong in the 4th when Antonio knocked him down and out with two right hands...

On 6-28-96 in Culver City, CA, he lost a 10 round decision against slick southpaw Rodney Jones (10-2): Jones frustrated Antonio with his speed and constant movement; scored 99-91, 99-92, 98-92; looking back, Antonio said, “Jones was toughest fight. It was my first time fighting a southpaw, and he was very tall, six-foot three.”...

He debuted at the age of 15 on 1-14-94 and won his first five fights...

AMATEUR, PERSONAL BACKGROUND: Antonio said, “I was born in Torrance, California. I moved with my family to Tijuana when I was very young. I grew up there, and played soccer and basketball. I have three sisters and one brother. My brother was murdered a couple of years ago. I found out about it the day I had a fight.

“My father was a big boxing fan, and he took me to the fights when I was eight years old. That’s how I became interested in boxing. I started soon after that. I had 21 amateur fights, with a record of 18 wins and 3 losses. My father sells mattresses, but he mainly does it to keep himself busy. I help him out financially, and every way I can. He doesn’t have the papers to cross the border, and he’s never seen me fight in person.

“When you live in a border town, everything is always a little tougher. Everything in life is a little tougher. You know how difficult it is, so I think most of us were brought up that way, work hard for everything you get. I think it shows in everything, especially in boxing.”

Antonio is a full-time fighter; he said, “I’ve been married for eight years. We’re very happy, it’s a very good marriage. Having children has crossed our minds, but we want to wait another two years. I have big plans in this sport, and I just want to feel like I’m ready and secure before we have kids.”...
